

#GoBlue Classroom Contest!

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month. The Montana Children's Trust Fund invites your school to participate in our #GoBlue campaign! Every Monday in April is #GoBlue Day, where people from all over Montana wear blue in support of strengthening families and preventing child abuse.

This year is our first annual #GoBlue competition! We are challenging all elementary school classrooms to #GoBlue during the month of April!

Here's how your classroom can enter our #GoBlue Contest:

1. Have your students wear blue on (at least) one Monday in April
2. Decorate your classroom in blue art and pinwheels (template here)
3. Talk with your students in an age appropriate way about what role they play in strengthening families, and why strong families are so important (Teacher talking points and resources)
4. Take a picture of your students and classroom in a fun and creative way
5. Send a picture and a little blurb on how you got your students involved to Kami at kkirchberg@mt.gov by April 29
6. The top three #GoBlue classrooms will be selected the first week in May
